

The Australian Career Book Award – hosted by the Royal Society of Arts Oceania

Award Presentation 2023

The award presentation will be held via Zoom on Saturday October 21, 10 am (AEST)

Program

The presentation will be facilitated by Philipa Duthie, Director RSA Oceania

Welcome – Philipa Duthie

Introduction – Dr Mark Strachan FRSA, Chair RSA Oceania

Mark will discuss the RSA mission and how the Award supports it in the career space.

Convenor Keynote – Lawrence Arnold FRSA, Award Convenor

The topic will be ‘Say HI to AI – artificial intelligence in career and career writing’

The Convenor will cover the AI challenges for career implementation, career writing, and for those assessing career books. The awarded book 2023 will be announced in that context.

Writers in the Room – The award medalist 2023 will be invited to offer a short response and Philipa will facilitate a discussion between participants, career writers, and RSA Fellows on career issues covered in the 2023 Awarded Book and our Finalist Books.

Close – Philipa Duthie

Link to presentation

Registration is not required. Click on this link a few minutes before 10.00 am on October 21.

For further information on the presentation or other TACBA processes hit the Award Tabs at www.careermelbourne.com or see our TACBA pages at www.thersa.org

Please feel free to contact the Award Convenor at thersa@careermelbourne.com for any Award information and RSA Oceania Director, Philipa Duthie, at philipa.duthie@thersa.org for information on the Royal Society of Arts.